

U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission – Fast Track Recall

Release Date: June 5, 2025

Lutron Recalls Power Interfaces for LED Tape Lights Due to Shock Hazard

Recall Summary

Name of Product: Lutron-branded power interfaces for LED tape lights

Hazard: The power interface could fail during a significant power surge (e.g., lightning strike), posing a shock hazard to consumers if they touch the LED tape lights.

Remedy: Replace

Consumers should immediately stop using the recalled power interfaces and any connected lighting, turn off the power at the circuit breaker, and contact Lutron to receive free installation of a free replacement power interface. Consumers should go to <https://residential.lutron.com/us/en/safety/safety-recall> to determine if their unit is affected by the recall and, if so, to register to receive a replacement power interface. If a unit is affected, Lutron will provide the free replacement power interface and a pre-paid mailing label that the consumer can use to return the unit to Lutron.

Consumer Contact: Lutron at 800-239-0495 from 8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. ET Monday through Friday, by email at productrecall@lutron.com, or online at <https://residential.lutron.com/us/en/safety/safety-recall> or <https://www.lutron.com/us/en> and click on “Safety Notices” at the bottom of the page for more information.

About the U.S. CPSC

The U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission (CPSC) is charged with protecting the public from unreasonable risk of injury associated with the use of thousands of types of consumer products. Deaths, injuries, and property damage from consumer product-related incidents cost the nation more than $1 trillion annually. Since the CPSC was established more than 50 years ago, it has worked to ensure the safety of consumer products, which has contributed to a decline in injuries associated with these products.

Federal law prohibits any person from selling products subject to a Commission ordered recall or a voluntary recall undertaken in consultation with the CPSC.
